Experience God's Power

The Christian retreat centre in Riederau on the banks of Lake Ammer in Bavaria was the venue of a Women's Ministries retreat with Heather-Dawn Small, GC WM Director. 95 women from all parts of Germany, but also from Switzerland, Austria and Norway convened and filled the meeting hall from May 4-6 to hear Heather-Dawn speak about the ups and downs of her life. Many participants were able to identify with her struggles, problems and happy moments. But the topic of the weekend was encouraging, showing how God can heal and give strength, leading his children through the dark valleys into a life...

The Hansa Conference ladies always look forward to their annual retreat in Wittensee as a highlight in their year, with sharing and enjoying friendships and simply having a good time together. An interesting topic is a bonus program. This year, from May 4 to 6, they were invited to consider the life cycles that influence their lives. Using various methods of illustration Hannele Ottsofski enabled the women to look

Mario Brito, president of the Inter-European Division of Seventh-Day Adventists expressed on behalf of the Administrative Committee his appreciation of Denise Hochstrasser's work, saying they would always miss her, her questions, suggestions and utter and relentless defense of the women's cause as well as her focus on mission – how women could be useful instruments in God's hands to share the Gospel message at home, in the church and the society. Her loving and skillful manner of Finding time for prayer in the daily hassle is often a great challenge for many women. They long for quiet time to meet God in the midst of family responsibilities, work and other engagements. This book is full of ideas, impulses, experiences and thoughts from the Bible and Ellen White's writings intended to inspire and revive personal prayer time. The texts originate from the material developed for the Women's International Day of Prayer. The material of the last three years have now been edited and collected and published in book form. Published in German by the Advent-Verlag Lüneburg the...

03. May 2018

Four Women's Ministries leaders from the first days met to remember their common time, to speak about the past and also about the joys, challenges and church politics of today. Ingrid Naumann is the woman who most influenced and shaped Women's Ministries in Europe. Gerd-Laila Walter, WM Director of Austrian Union and Denise Hochstrasser, WM Director Inter-European Division started their careers with her as their precious mentor and counselor, and now both are about to retire. There was so much to share and the joyful time passed much too fast. A special highlight for Ingrid was certainly that...
